ORDER OF SERVICE

¶ All stand at the entry of the Choir, the Precentor and the Dean.

¶ Notices may be given.

¶ Remain standing to sing the first HYMN.

HYMN

Glory to thee, my God, this night
For all the blessings of the light;
Keep me, O keep me, King of kings,
Beneath thy own almighty wings.

Forgive me, Lord, for thy dear Son,
The ill that I this day have done,
That with the world, myself, and thee,
I, ere I sleep, at peace may be.

Teach me to live, that I may dread
The grave as little as my bed;
Teach me to die, that so I may Rise glorious at the awful day.

O may my soul on thee repose,
And with sweet sleep mine eyelids close,
Sleep that may me more vigorous make
To serve my God when I awake.

Praise God from whom all blessings flow,
Praise him all creatures here below,
Praise him above, ye heavenly host,
Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

Words: Thomas Ken (1637-1711)
Music: Thomas Tallis (c. 1505-85)

¶ The Dean calls the congregation to prayer.

DEARLY beloved brethren, I pray and beseech you, as many as are here present, to accompany me with a pure heart and humble voice unto the throne of the heavenly grace, saying after me.

¶ All kneel and say the CONFESSION.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful Father; We have erred, and strayed from thy ways like lost sheep. We have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts. We have offended against thy holy laws. We have left undone those things which we ought to have done; And we have done those things which we ought not to have done; And there is no health in us. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us, miserable offenders. Spare thou them, O God, which confess their faults. Restore thou them that are penitent; According to thy promises declared unto mankind in Christ Jesu our Lord. And grant, O most merciful Father, for his sake; That we may hereafter live a godly, righteous, and sober life, To the glory of thy holy Name. Amen.

¶ The Dean pronounces this ABSOLUTION.

ALMIGHTY GOD, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who desireth not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may turn from his wickedness, and live; and hath given power, and commandment, to his Ministers, to declare and pronounce to his people, being penitent, the Absolution and Remission of their sins: He pardoneth and absolveth all them that truly repent, and unfeignedly believe his holy Gospel. Wherefore let us beseech him to grant us true repentance, and his Holy Spirit, that those things may please him, which we do at this present; and that the rest of our life hereafter may be pure, and holy; so that at the last we may come to his eternal joy; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

¶ All say the LORD'S PRAYER.

OUR FATHER, which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, But deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, For ever and ever. Amen.

¶ All stand: the Dean and Choir sings the First Preces & Responses.

O LORD, open thou our lips.
And our mouth shall shew forth thy praise.
O God, make speed to save us.
O Lord, make haste to help us.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son:
and to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be:
world without end. Amen.
Praise ye the Lord.
The Lord's name be praised.

Music: Philip Radcliffe (1905-1986)

¶ Remain standing: the Choir sings the following Psalm.

Psalm 121 Levavi oculos

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills:
from whence cometh my help.
My help cometh even from the Lord:
who hath made heaven and earth.
He will not suffer thy foot to be moved:
and he that keepeth thee will not sleep.
Behold he that keepeth Israel:
shall neither slumber nor sleep.
The Lord himself is thy keeper:
the Lord is thy defence upon thy right hand;
So that the sun shall not burn thee by day:
neither the moon by night.
The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil:
yea it is even he that shall keep thy soul:
The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in:
from this time forth for evermore.
Glory be to the Father:
and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning is now and ever shall be:
world without end. Amen.

Chant: H. Walford Davies (1869-1941)

¶ All sit: the President reads the lesson.

Ecclesiasticus 44. 1–15

LET us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us.
The Lord hath wrought great glory by them through his great power from the beginning.

Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, and declaring prophecies: Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions; Such as found out musical tunes, and recited verses in writing: Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations:

All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.
There be of them, that have left a name behind them, that their praises might be reported. And some there be, which have no memorial; who are perished, as though they had never been; and are become as though they had never been born;
and their children after them.

But these were merciful men, whose righteousness hath not been forgotten.
With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance, and their children are within the covenant. Their seed standeth fast, and their children for their sakes.
Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.
Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth for evermore.
The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will shew forth their praise.

Thanks be to God.

¶ The Choir sings the Anthem, 'O thou the central orb'.

O Thou, the central orb of righteous love,
Pure beam of the most High, eternal Light
Of this our wintry world, Thy radiance bright
Awakes new joy in faith, hope soars above.

Come, quickly come, and let thy glory shine,
Gilding our darksome heaven with rays Divine.

Thy saints with holy lustre round Thee move,
As stars about thy throne, set in the height
Of God's ordaining counsel, as Thy sight
Gives measured grace to each, Thy power to prove.

Let Thy bright beams disperse the gloom of sin,
Our nature all shall feel eternal day
In fellowship with thee, transforming day.
To souls erewhile unclean, now pure within. Amen.

Words: Henry Ramsden Bramley (1833-1917)
Music: Charles Wood MusD (Fellow 1894–1926)

¶ The Master reads

THE APPOINTED COMMEMORATION OF FOUNDERS AND BENEFACTORS.

ACCORDING to our bounden duty and the decree of this our College, let us offer up our thanks and praise to Almighty God for our Founders and all our Benefactors.

On the 28th of January 1348 EDMUND GONVILLE, Rector of Terrington in Norfolk, obtained Letters Patent granting licence to found a Hall in Cambridge, which came to be called after his own name and dedicated to the honour of the Annunciation of Blessed Mary the Virgin; wherein he appointed a Master and four Fellows, whom he maintained. In 1351 our First Founder died, making WILLIAM BATEMAN, Bishop of Norwich, his Executor, for the perfecting and endowment of his foundation; who in 1354 licensed the appropriation to Gonville Hall of the three benefices of Wilton and Foulden in Norfolk and Mutford in Suffolk, for the maintenance of the Master and the four Fellows. He also, as our Second Founder, made the statutes called by his own name for the Government of the College. Edmund Gonville and William Bateman were followed by founders of fellowships and scholarships, benefactors to the buildings of the College, and general benefactors. We especially remember that in 1480 ELIZABETH CLERE of Ormesby in Norfolk, gave money to support a Fellow in Divinity and to pay for the building of the east side of Gonville Court; and that shortly after 1500 the College received from the executors of Dame ANNE SCROOP pasture land comprising all that lies between Harvey Court and the Fellows' Garden, and arable land in the East Field of Cambridge.

In 1557 a Third Founder appeared in JOHN CAIUS, Doctor in Physic, Fellow and afterwards Master of this College, and President of the College of Physicians in London. He gave the manors of Croxley in Rickmansworth in Hertfordshire, and of Runcton and Burnham in Norfolk, for stipends. He also gave us new statutes and built the two wings of the Court called by his own name. And lastly, for the enlarging and improving the site of the College, he purchased from Trinity College four tenements over against St Michael's Church-yard, whereon part of the building in Tree Court now stands.

This generous man, the greatest of all our Benefactors, was born at Norwich on the 6th of October 1510. In 1529 he was admitted into this College, and in 1533 he was elected Fellow. He left in 1539 and lived some years abroad, especially at the University of Padua, where he commenced Doctor in Physic. After his return he obtained from King Philip and Queen Mary in 1557, a Charter of Foundation as well as of Confirmation, by which he was made a Founder of Gonville and Caius College, over which he placed the Master of Gonville Hall, Thomas Bacon. On Master Bacon's death on the 1st of January 1559, Dr Caius himself was prevailed on to take into his own hands the Government of the College. After he had made himself honoured at home, and by his many learned writings procured the highest reputation abroad, finding himself advanced in age and decayed in strength, that he might secure to the College a prudent Governor, he resigned the Mastership to Dr Legge on the 27th of June 1573. Thus gradually retiring from worldly business, and foreseeing that he should soon retire from the world itself, he provided for his own monument, and prepared the vault in which he was laid about two months afterwards. For on the 29th of July he died and his body was then brought from London to be interred in this sacred place.

Of the long array of those who, following in the footsteps of Edmund Gonville, William Bateman and John Caius, have contributed by their talents, their self-denial and their generosity to the stately foundation, whereof we their successors reap the benefits, we commemorate especially the following.

Mistress JOYCE FRANKLAND, daughter of Robert Trapps, of London, goldsmith, and Joan his wife (herself a foundress of scholarships) left to the College in 1587 her three houses in Philip Lane, London, with a great sum in money; she furnished maintenance for a Chaplaincy, for six Fellowships and for twelve Scholarships, to be called by her son's name and her own.

In 1607 Dr THOMAS LEGGE, Master of the College, left money from which a block of buildings bearing his name was erected on the east side of the Tree Court.

Dr STEPHEN PERSE was admitted of this College in 1565 and afterwards became a Fellow. In 1615, besides bequeathing money for building the north side of the Tree Court, he left £5,000 for purchasing land, for the increase of the stipends of the six Frankland Fellows, and for the stipends of six Fellows and six Scholars of his own Foundation, as well as for a free Grammar School, and for the maintenance of six poor Alms-women in the town of Cambridge.

In 1619 Dr WILLIAM BRANTHWAITE, Master of the College and one of the translators of the Holy Scriptures, bequeathed his ample collection of books.

BARTHOLOMEW WORTLEY, Fellow, was presented by the College in 1705 to the Rectory of Bratton Fleming in Devonshire. When he died, he bequeathed his whole estate, in trust, for founding two Fellowships, and three Exhibitions.

In 1866 Dr ROBERT SHUTTLEWORTH of Berne founded scholarships in memory of his son, a Caian.

In 1889 Dr WILLIAM DROSIER, left by his will a notable addition to the endowment of the College.

In 1908 CHARLES MONRO, a distinguished exponent of Roman Law, bequeathed most of his personal estate to the College.

In 1918 came a legacy from the industrialist DAVID THOMAS, LORD RHONDDA; and, in 1925, an endowment from the celebrated electrical engineer – and pioneer of the motor car – Sir DAVID SALOMONS, both for scholarships. Sir David also contributed generously to funding the Murray Easton building overlooking Market Place.

In 1933 CHARLES HANDSON bequeathed the residue of his estate for biological research.

In 1936 Dr WILLIAM TAPP, a solicitor, bequeathed to the College property in London, investments, and his box at the Royal Albert Hall. This bequest, the greatest addition to the College's wealth since Dr Caius' foundation, provides for Fellowships and Scholarships especially in Law and Jurisprudence.

Sir COMYNS BERKELEY, who died in 1946, bequeathed the residue of his estate to form a Fund, in the names of his wife, Ethel, and himself, for fellowships in Medicine and Science.

In 1949 and 1959 Major OSKAR TEICHMAN, physician and soldier, endowed scholarships in law and history in memory of his two sons, killed in action in the Second World War.

In our own time the generosity of our benefactors has not diminished. Increasing numbers of gifts, both large and small, have come from members of the community of Caians and from friends of the College. Gifts of exceptional generosity have come from ROGER BARCLAY-SMITH, to support of students from Malawi; from Sir DOUGLAS MYERS of New Zealand; from Mrs RITA CAVONIUS, in memory of her husband, Professor Richard Cavonius; and from CHRISTOPHER and SHIRLEY BAILEY, who have endowed a College Lectureship in their own name, as well as making other gifts. JOHN and ANN HAINES, after funding a wing of the Stephen Hawking Building, made further gifts for College Lectureships; ALICE CHENG of Shanghai has funded graduate accommodation at Ferry Path; MARTIN WADE has supported College sports as well as the general endowment; and Tan Sri Dr JEFFREY CHEAH, the founder of Sunway University in Malaysia, funded an endowment to provide for two Fellowships. Most recently, ERIC and ELAINE SHOOTER of the United States of America, and YVONNE LUI of Hong Kong, have made substantial additions to the general endowment; and JOHN and MARGARET CHUMROW bequeathed their house in Hampstead to the College, having previously given generously to music in this College.

Not only then for our Founders and primary benefactors, whose names we have this day recited to the glory of God and the perpetuating of their memories, but also for all others who have made gifts and served the College in all its parts and purposes, let us bless and praise Almighty God.

A Roll of other Benefactors, together with a Roll of the Gonville Fellow Benefactors and the Founders and Members of the College's Court of Benefactors, is appended to this Order of Service.

¶ All stand: the choir sings this PSALM of praise.

Jubilate Deo (Psalm 100)

O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands:
serve the Lord with gladness,
and come before his presence with a song.
Be ye sure that the Lord he is God:
it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves;
we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving,
and into his courts with praise:
be thankful unto him and speak good of his Name.
For the Lord is gracious, his mercy is everlasting;
and his truth endureth from generation to generation.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son,
and to the Holy Ghost:
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,
world without end. Amen.

Music: Jubilate Deo in E flat by Benjamin Britten (1913-76)

¶ These PRAYERS are said.

Dean THE MEMORY of the righteous shall endure for evermore.
Congregation And shall not be afraid of any evil report.
Dean The Lord be with you.
Congregation And with thy spirit.

Dean Let us pray.

All shall kneel.

O LORD GOD ALMIGHTY, Maker of all things and Giver of all good gifts, who didst put it into the hearts of thy servants Edmund Gonville and William Bateman to found and foster this our College, and didst move thy servant John Caius greatly to further that beginning, we thank thee for the abundant blessing which thou hast vouchsafed to this house through more than six hundred and fifty years. And we beseech thee, O heavenly Father, to continue the same blessing to us and to those yet to come, that thy faith, fear, and love, and the knowledge of thy truth may ever dwell within these walls, and that under the protection of thy good providence, we may so pass through things temporal that we finally lose not the things eternal; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Let us give thanks to God for all the good things he has given us, especially in this College, saying together

All shall say the GENERAL THANKSGIVING.

ALMIGHTY GOD, Father of all mercies, we thine unworthy servants do give thee most humble and hearty thanks for all thy goodness and loving kindness to us and to all men; We bless thee for our creation, preservation, and all the blessings of this life; But above all, for thine inestimable love in the redemption of the world by our Lord Jesus Christ; For the means of grace, and for the hope of glory. And, we beseech thee, give us that due sense of all thy mercies, That our hearts may be unfeignedly thankful, And that we shew forth thy praise, not only with our lips, but in our lives; By giving up ourselves to thy service, And by walking before thee in holiness and righteousness all our days; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom with thee and the Holy Ghost be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Dean says these Prayers, from Dr Caius' prayers for daily use in the College.

O LORD the Holy Spirit, who art the Author of all good and the Giver of all wisdom, bestow on us thy servants the power of learning, the desire of wisdom, and grace to do good; that by an honest life and prudent conduct we may be found worthy to serve thee and thy kingdom, who livest and reignest God for ever and ever. Amen.

THE GOD of peace and love remain with us always. Amen.

A PRAYER of John Donne

BRING US, O Lord God, at our last awakening into the house and gate of heaven;
to enter into that gate and dwell in that house, where there shall be no darkness nor dazzling, but one equal light;
no noise nor silence, but one equal music;
no fears nor hopes, but one equal possession;
no ends, nor beginnings, but one equal eternity;
in the habitations of thy glory and dominion, world without end. Amen.

Keep us Lord so awake in the duties of our callings, that we may thus sleep in thy peace, and wake in thy glory:

At the end of the Prayers, the GRACE is said by all.

THE GRACE of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, be with us all, evermore. Amen.

¶ The Choir sings the anthem 'Peace I leave with you'.

Peace I leave with you,
I leave you my peace I give unto you.
Not as the world giveth give I unto you.
Let not your heart be troubled.

Words: John 4.27
Music: Amy Beach (1867-1944)

¶ The COMMEMORATION SERMON

¶ Stand for the final HYMN.

Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom,
Lead thou me on;
The night is dark, and I am far from home,
Lead thou me on.
Keep thou my feet; I do not ask to see
The distant scene; one step enough for me.

I was not ever thus, nor prayed that thou Shouldst lead me on;
I loved to choose and see my path; but now
Lead thou me on.
I loved the garish day, and, spite of fears,
Pride ruled my will: remember not past years.

So long thy power hath blest me, sure it still Will lead me on
O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till
The night is gone,
And with the morn those angel faces smile,
Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile.

Words: John Henry Newman (1801-1890)
Music: William H. Harris (1883-1973)

¶ Remain standing for the FINAL RESPONSES.

Dean THE LORD be with you.
Congregation And with thy spirit.
Dean Let us bless the Lord.
Congregation Thanks be to God.

The Court of Benefactors

The John Caius Guild was established in 2012 to celebrate the College's greatest living benefactors whose names are engraved on the Benefactors' Wall. The title of Gonville Fellow Benefactor is conferred by the College Council in recognition of exceptional munificence to the College. The College established in 1998 a Court of Benefactors in which Founders of very great and Members of great munificence are enrolled. The Stephen Hawking Circle was introduced in 2007.
