Gonville & Caius is one of the oldest University of Cambridge colleges. Originally named Gonville Hall, the College was founded by Edmund Gonville, Rector of Terrington in 1348. The College was re-founded in 1557 by former student and Fellow, Dr John Caius who, as part of his reconstruction, erected three Gates, which survive to the present day. New students entered the College through the Gate of Humility, while studying in the College they would pass through the Gate of Virtue every day, and finally when they leave to receive their degrees, students depart through the Gate of Honour.

Approximately a ten minute walk from Old Courts is the West Road site comprising of Harvey Court and the Stephen Hawking Building. Harvey Court was completed in 1962. It was designed by Professor Sir Leslie Martin, the Cambridge Professor of Architecture, and has won many prizes. It represents the then contemporary style, where materials of construction are fully exposed. The building was refurbished in 2011 to provide one hundred rooms with ensuite facilities.

Named after one of the College’s most celebrated Fellows, Professor Stephen Hawking, who lived and wrote his famed bestseller A Brief History of Time on this site, the aptly named Stephan Hawking Building was designed by Mark Wilkinson and officially opened by HRH Prince Philip in April 2007. With seventy-five ensuite bedrooms available for guests during College vacation periods, it also has a large meeting room, the Cavonius Centre. The building has an interesting plan form like an elongated letter ‘s’. This arrangement was required by planning considerations because of the position of several listed trees. The resulting design is unusual but pleasing. The upper part of the building has several flats occupied by fellows living in the college. Both Harvey Court and the Stephen Hawking Building have ready access to the beautiful college gardens which stretch from West Road to Sidgwick Avenue.

During term, Caius is home to more than 700 students and 100 Fellows. Students come to Caius from all over the world and undergraduates study all of the subjects offered in the University. Our Fellows have globally renowned expertise ranging from Ancient History to Zoology and are all recognised as leaders in their own fields. Gonville & Caius College is regularly one of the top performing Colleges in the University of Cambridge league tables and we apply this same commitment to excellence to our corporate events.
